SPEAKERS

Melvin J. Collier has been conducting historical and genealogical research for over 20 years and has given numerous workshops and presentations on historical and genealogical subjects. He has worked as an archivist in the Atlanta University Center and has appeared on the television show, “Who Do You Think You Are?”, as an expert genealogist. Melvin maintains a genealogy blog, Roots Revealed at www.rootsrevealed.com and is the author of Mississippi to Africa: A Journey of Discovery; 150 Years Later: Broken Ties Mended; and Ealy Family Heritage: Documenting Our Legacy.

Nicka Sewell-Smith is a speaker, host, and documentarian with more than 20 years of experience as a genealogist. She has diverse experience in communications with a background in radio and video production and has been a host for several genealogical topics within the Midwest African American Genealogy Institute (MAAGI). She is the host of BlackProGen LIVE, an innovative web show focused on people of color, genealogy and family history. Nicka has also served as an expert in genealogical research on the television show, “Who Do You Think You Are?”
